Fluid Milk Purchases Authorized By Jordan Valley Coop. Creamery

Fluid milk will be purchased by the Jordan Valley Coop. Creamery of East Jordan, just as soon as machinery can be purchased and installed. This announcement was made Saturday by Percy Penfold, Manager of the Creamery, on behalf of the Board of Directors. Penfold stated that due to changes in world conditions as well as a general shift in production trends by farmers from butterfat to whole milk, the Board of Directors authorized this step in their Directors meeting of Friday evening. The Directors have been considering the purchase of fluid milk for the past several years.

Meeting with the Board was Arthur Howland, Ext. Spec. in Agricultural Economics, Michigan State College. Howland pointed out that the trend throughout the State and nation is one in which more and more farmers are shifting from farm produced butterfat to fluid milk. He further pointed out that the problem of making a better quality manufactured dairy product can better be met through the purchase of fluid milk from the farm. Instances were cited where several dairies in the State, just during the past year, have quit buying farm separated butterfat, instead buying only fluid milk which is taken into the dairy plant, separated, the butterfat made into a high quality butter and the skimmilk dried.

The Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery was organized in 1931. For a number of years it has produced well over a million pounds of butter annually. Wm. Parsons of Charlevoix is President of the Creamery. The organization service patrons in the five county area of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan and Otsego counties.

PLEASE

Our United Community Chest Drive starts Oct. 16th. Bill Grauel is campaign manager, assisted by Jason Snyder. They, and members of the committee, have been working nights to prepare for the coming campaign. A pep meeting for all workers is scheduled for Oct. 11th at 8:00 p. m. at the High School Home Ec. room. The people solicited to work for the campaign have been generous in their response to help. Please remember when a worker appears at your door or place of business, he or she is giving time as well as money to this worthy cause. Be prepared to respond generously and promptly.

A card index of each family and each business or industry in East Jordan has been compiled. Our budget is larger this year because we need more for the boys and girls in service. We are also increasing the milk program at school including the second grade.

We want also to expand our recreational program to include more activities for girls.

The complete budget with details of your dollar value will be published in this paper next week.

South Arm Grange

Met at their hall last Thursday evening, Sept. 28, with 18 members present. We opened the meeting by singing "Bud and Bloom".

The sec'y read a letter from our State Master, W. G. Armstrong, recommending George Smith of Maple Grove Grange, Charlevoix Co., to act as District Deputy Master for this District to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Anna Warner who has resigned.

Our new kitchen is well under way. R. V. Liskum is doing the work.

We authorized the building committee to buy the new window and locally so as to have them at the hall as Mr. Liskum expects to be ready for them soon if the weather permits. We expect to be moved into it soon.It was decided to omit lunches until the new kitchen is completed.

A discussion took place on the Aid for Dependent Children. It seems as though some people receive more than is necessary and others needing it do not receive any. It was moved by Hugh Graham to table the discussion until after election. He feels we could not make any progress now being election year and ADC is affiliated with politics.

We are very happy to receive Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Goodman into our order. They have transferred from Rock Elm Grange. Mr. and Mrs. Goodman are building a new home so expect to make South Arm their home from now on.

Grange closed by singing "Be Faithful O Patron". Next meeting Thursday, Oct. 12 at 9:00 p. m. with election of officers. Let's see another nice turnout.

Even though our hall is under construction we still continue skating every Friday evening from 8 to 10 p. m. and dancing every Saturday evening 10:00-2:00 a. m. with Clem Kenney's Orchestra. Everyone welcome.

You may have that bird in your hands, but remember he has wings.

Special Meeting of Rebec-Sweet Post American Legion

A special meeting of the Legion will be held at their home on Thursday, Oct. 12th, at 8:00 p. m. Important.

LIVE TO PICK ANOTHER YEAR

"Live to pick another year," was the plea made this week by County Agricultural Agent to Antrim County farmers.

The corn picker is one of the most dangerous of all farm machines, he said. Throughout the corn picking season newspaper headlines like the following shock readers everywhere. "Farmer Loses Hands in Corn Picker," "Legs Mangled in Corn Picker", "Farmer Fatally Injured in Picker Accident".

Unfortunately these are common headlines that stare us in the face many times during the fall months. They can be avoided, however, if a few simple rules are followed.

First, stop the picker. Never reach into the picker while it is running. Shut off the power before attempting to remove stalks that lodge in the snapping or husking rolls.

Using a stalk or stick will not protect you, Kirkpatrick says. The rolls grab so quickly that they jerk your hand and stalk in before you can let go.

To be safe, make "shuting off" the power the habit every time you leave the tractor seat.

Second, keep guards in place. Never operate without the shields. If your clothing merely flops against an unguarded shaft or coupling, you can be drawn in without warning. Finally, watch out for fire. Keep hot manifolds and exhaust accessories free from trash, avoid leady fuel lines, and never refuel with the motor running.

Notice To Car Owners

Starting Oct. 5th, cars will be parked in two paralell lines in center of the Main Street, from Mill Street to Williams Street.

This is a temporary arrangemen for the purpose of rolling the new paving on sides of the street.

Your cooperation in this will be greatly appreciated.

Harry Simmons
Chief of Police.

Marriages

Neumann — Blekkenk

Miss Olga Jean Neumann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neumann was united in marriage Sept. 30, at 2:30 p. m. to William Blekkenk, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blekkenk, Sr., of Deer Lake, in the East Jordan Methodist Church.

Rev. Robert Moore the pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with white baskets of mixed gladioli, bitter sweet and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over white satin, fashioned with a high neck, long tapered sleeves, a fitted bodice with lace inserts. The skirt was cut full, ending in a cathedral train. The finger tip veil of net was held in place by a crown of seed pearls, and her bouquet was of white gladioli.

Polly Stark, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white mums. Mrs. Jennie Valencourt, and Miss Grace Blekkenk, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They carried cascade bouquets of pink and white mums. Their gowns were identically fashioned from blue taffeta. They wore matching blue net crowns.

Norman Crozier of Deer Lake served the groom as best man. Don and Gail Neumann, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Vance were master and mistress of ceremony. Mrs. Vance's dress was blue with a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Neumann chose a dress of blue-grey satin with black accessories. Mrs. Blekkenk wore a dress of powder blue. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the Methodist Church parlor following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a large four-tiered decorated wedding cake made by Mrs. Frances Benson and Mrs. Phyllis Lilak, a wedding gift to the couple.

The refreshments consisted of ice cream, cake and coffee.

The bride was a graduate from East Jordan High School Class of '48.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Blekkenk left after the reception on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. They will make their home on his farm at Deer Lake.

Out of town guests here to attend the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blekkenk and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Blekkenk, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Bricker, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crozier, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crozier and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Korthase, Jr., Miss Carrie Korthase, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanek, of Deer Lake; Rex Gibbard, Ft. Two pre-nuptial showers were held for Jean Neumann. A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. A. J. Rogers and Mrs. Jas. Lilak at the home of the former. The women on Second St. were guests. Games were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The honored guest received many lovely gifts.

A niscellaneous shower was giv-enby Mrs. Berle Scott and Miss Natalie Whiteford at the home of the former. Guests were the operators of the Bell Telephone Co.

Games were played. The honored guest opened the lovely gifts after which salad, tea and coffee were served.

Red Devils Chalk Up Their Third Triumph

DEFEAT PELLSTON HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN, 14-6

East Jordan High School's Red Devils turned in their third football triumph of the season last Friday afternoon with a 14-6 win over a heavier Pellston High School eleven at Pellston.

East Jordan lost little time in taking the lead as Milstein scooped up a loose ball on the Pellston 32 yard stripe and went over standing up without a hand being laid on him. Whiteford's kick for the extra point was good and East Jordan led 7-0 with the game scarcely three minutes old. East Jordan had received and were forced to kick on the 4th down. Whiteford's punt hit the turf and then accidently brushed a Pellston receiver. Milstein picked up the ball and covered the necessary 32 yards to pay dirt unmolested.

Pellston came right back and in just nine plays tallied on a short pass Jarman to Emerson in the end zone. Pellston attempted to add the extra point on a short pass in the left flat but it fell incomplete and East Jordan led 7-6 as the first quarter came to a close. Not to be outdone, the Red and Black put on a drive after taking the Pellston kickoff and without giving up the ball scored again midway in the second quarter as Whiteford plunged over from the 3. Whiteford's kick was again good and East Jordan led 14-6 at the halftime.

Both teams battled back and forth throughout the second half with the locals making the only serious bid to score late in the game. East Jordan was knocking at the door as the game ended having position of the ball on the Pellston 7 yard line, 1st down and goal to go.

East Jordan plays host to the powerful Charlevoix "Red Rayders" here, Saturday afternoon of this week at 3:00 p. m. at the West Side Athetic Field. Charlevoix, winners over Boyne City 31-0 last week, comes here with a remarkable record of 35 games in a row without defeat. The only mar in their otherwise perfect record over that span is the two ties handed them by Coach Devine's 1948 and 1949 elevens.

All "Figgered" Out

When a village idiot blossomed out all of a sudden in new clothes, the neighbors wondered at his prosperity.

"What's happened to you?" asked one of them.

"I won the first prize in the lottery," he answered.

"How did you come to guess the lucky number?"

"Well, three times running I dreamed of seven; so I figured it out that three times seven are 24, and I bought ticket number 24. It won the first prize."

"Why, you blamed fool, three times seven is 21, not 24."

"Gosh, is that so?" said the village idiot. "Well, 24 won, anyway."

POSITIVE PROOF

The newlyweds had just got off their train.

"John, dear," said the bride, "let us try to make the people think we have been married a long time."

"All right, honey," was the answer, "you carry the suitcases."

Case of Identity

She was home from college for the holidays, and the old folks were having a reception in her honor. During the event she brought out some of her new gowns to show to the guests. Picking up a beautiful silk creation, she held it up before the admiring crowd.

"Isn't this perfectly gorgeous!" she exclaimed. "Just think, it came from a poor little insignificant worm!"

Her hard-working father looked a moment, then he turned and said: "Yes, darn it, an' I'm that worm!"

Platform Technique

"There were some things in your speech that I didn't quite understand."

"Probably," replied Senator Blank, "those were the topics I referred to in a confident, offhand way, so as to avoid disclosing that I don't understand 'em either."

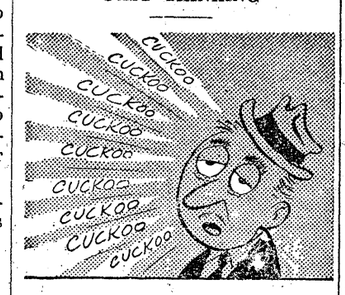

Fair Enough

Bessie had a new dime to invest in an ice cream soda.

"Why don't you give your dime to the missions?" said the minister, who was calling.

"I thought about that," said Bessie, "but I think I'll buy the ice cream and let the druggist give it to the missions."

FAST THINKING

"I was in an awkward predicament yesterday morning," said a married man to a friend.

"How was that?"

"Why, I came home late, and my wife heard me and said, 'John, what time is it?' and I said, 'Only twelve my dear,' and just then that cuckoo clock of ours sang out three times."

"What did you do?"

"Why, I just had to stand there and cuckoo nine times more."

His Only Buddy

"Why does this manager seem so partial to young Saunders?"

"Because he's the only fellow on the staff who isn't taking correspondence lessons to become manager himself!"

NOTHING NEW

He took her hand in his and gazed proudly at the engagement ring he had placed on her finger only three days before.

"Did your friends admire it?" he inquired, tenderly.

"They did more than that," she replied. "Two of them recognized it!"

FARM FACTS
from your County Agricultural Agent
Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE

"Live to pick another year" was the plea made this week by Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, to Charlevoix county farmers.

The corn picker is one of the most dangerous of all farm machines, he added. Hhroughout the corn picking season newspaper headlines like the following shock readers everywhere. "Farmer Loses Hands in Corn Picker", "Legs Mangled in Corn Picker", "Farmer Fatally Injured in Picker Accident".

Unfortunately these are common headlines that stare us in the face many times during the fall months. They can be avoided, however, if a few simple rules are followed.

First, stop the picker! Never reach into the picker while it is running. Shut off the power before attempting to remove stalks that lodge in the snapping or husking rolls.

Using a stalk or stick will not protect you, Rebman says. The rolls grab so quickly that they jerk your hand and stalk in before you can let go, and Ed Rebman is talking from experience.

To be safe, make "shutting off" the power a habit everytime you leave the tractor seat.

Second, keep the guards in place. Never operate without the shields. If your clothing merely flops against an unguarded shaft or coupling, you can be drawn in without warning.

Finally, watch out for fire. Keep hot manifolds and exhaust accessories free from trash, avoid leaky fuel lines, and never refuel with the motor running.

BEEF SHOWING SALE NEXT WEEK

The annual feeder cattle sale sponsored by the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders Association will be held next week, Oct. 12, at their sale yards at Gaylord, according to Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent. Everyone who is interested in seeing the best quality of beef feeder cattle or who are interested in obtaining some of these animals should plan on attending this show and sale. Last year the best individual calves and the best pen of calves were shown by Calvin Bricker of Boyne City.

Tell Ways To Prepare Game

Hunters and housewives who will face their first experience in preparing wild game for table use will be interested in the bulletin "Good Eating from Woods and Fields," compiled by Michigan State College in cooperation with the Michigan Conservation Department.

The publication tells of various tested methods used in preparing wid duck, pheasants, rabbits, grouse and other game. According to Charles Shick, extension specialist in game management for Michigan State College and the Conservation Department, hunters can get some good pointers on bleeding, dressing and cutting up of game animals.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained from county extension offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing. Ask for Extension Bulletin 253.

Fall Clipping Aids Dairy Herd Comfort

Once again it's time for dairyment to set up a barber shop for Bossy to give her the clip she so badly needs before being stabled for the winter, say Michigan State College dairymen.

Cow's udders and flanks must be clipped so that manure and other debris will not cling to them. Each tiny particle of this material carries millions of invisable bacteria and is a common source of excessive sediment and high bacteria counts.

Clipping helps improve the quality of milk and at the same time removes harboring places for lice, dust, and other vermin which make contented cows uncomfortable. Feed costs are high and uncomfortable cows may be less productive, the dairymen say.

Some of those birds who drive like crazy with Violets in their arms are sure to end up with lilies in their hands.

The extent of some people's religion is that they know the name of the church they stay away from.

A woman doesn't need to add if she can distract.

Forward, Men

Seth Smith was reckoned the laziest man in the village. So tired had the authorities become of contributing to his support that they decided to confine him to living tomb. Accordingly he was prepared for burial. The hearse was an old ramshackle country wagon.

As the strange cortege moved along some old resident asked, "Who is it?"

"Why, Seth Smith, who is too lazy to get anything to live on, so we are going to bury him alive."

"I'll give him a bushel of corn," said one.

"So will I," said another.

Slowly raising his head, Seth asked:

"Is the corn shelled, neighbor?"

"No, you'll have to shell it yourself."

Gently replacing his head, he said: "Drive on, boys, drive on."

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

A retired printer went into the restaurant business.

"This is an outrage—there's a needle in this soup!" cried one of his customers.

"Merely a typographical error, sir," said the aforetime typo suavely. "Should have been noodle."

Mean Conductor

For the fourth time the corporation lawyer conducting the cross-examination led the witness to the accident.

"You say that after the street car passed, the man was seen lying on the ground with his scalp bleeding. Did the car hit him?"

"Naw," exploded the exasperated witness. "The conductor leaned out and bit him as he went by."—Kablegram.

Should Work

A young man just out of college sought the advice of a hard-headed and successful businessman. "Tell me, please, how I should go about getting a start in the great game of business."

"Sell your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock," was the laconic reply.

Could Be

"Speaking of animals remembering," said the elderly man, "when I was a boy I once gave a circus elephant a stick of striped candy."

"Well?"

"After that, whenever that circus was to parade in the town, the barbers had to take in their striped poles."

No Zero

"So that distinguished-looking gentleman in the tall hat is your leading citizen, eh? Has he received many degrees from colleges?"

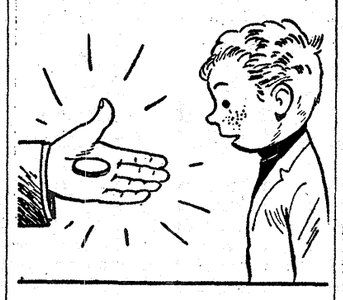

"Has he? Why, he has received so many degrees we call him the 'Human Thermometer.'"

Yeah, Let's

"You look sweet enough to eat," he whispered soft and low.

"I am," said she quite hungrily, "Where do you want to go?"

PRECAUTION

"I hold in my hand here a bright and shining silver dollar," announced the candidate to a group of young Americans. "That dollar goes to the lad who is level-headed enough to belong to the same party as I do."

Then turning to a bright-eyed urchin at his left, he asked:

"What's your politics, son?"

"What's yours?" piped the young opportunist.

MEOW!!!

"So your husband objects to cats?"

"Yes, indeed. He says that I feed all the cats in the neighborhood. Won't you stay and have tea?"

The Whole Truth

"I knew an artist once who painted a cobweb on the ceiling so realistically that the maid spent hours trying to get it down."

"Sorry, dear, I just don't believe it."

"Why not? Artists have been known to do such things."

"Yes, but not maids!"

Plan Now For Cattle Feeding Operations

Good cattle feeders are good planners. Begin now to size up your feed situation and the kind of cattle you want to buy.

This means analyzing feed on hand, cost of additional feed, when and where to buy your feeders, how much you want to pay for them, and the relative price and demand for the cattle when ready for market. War conditions will again emphasize production, and cattle feeding should be profitable under the present feed situation.

Do any of these operations or combinations fit your business?

1. Buy light good quality steers or steers and heifers. Here you have the advantage of putting on low cost gains on young animals. Margins are welcome but not an absolute nesessity.

2. Full feed quality calves and market around 900-1000 pounds or carry them longer and market later. This latter method allows the use of pasture gains, keeping cost down.

3. Feed medium grade (around 700 pounds) cattle, using plenty of roughage with some grain and market during spring months. This is a particularly good operation for the dairyman who wants to feed a few more cattle to supplement his income and not carry cattle into the following summer and fall months. Spring is the best time for marketing medium cattle.

4. An experienced cattle feeded may want to be a bit more speculative and take on heavier, unfinished good quality feeder cattle, step them up a grade, or feed them into the grade and market. He depends pretty much on margins since his costs of grain are higher on heavy cattle. The feeding period is usually from 30 to 90 days.

5. Do not overlook the dairy heifer as a good beef feeding bet. Good 600-700 pound rugged dairy heifers may be purchased and fed for a two-way market. They may be turned for dairy cows or beef according to the demand for each.

Some dairymen or farmers may like this method of feeding to utilize their surplus feed.

At no time are we attempting to indicate one operation as being better than another. There should be profit in all these methods or combinations of these methods. Some feeders may even use two or three different sets of cattle. This allows them several marketing periods and as we say they are not "putting all their eggs in one basket".

Buying, feeding and marketing wisely is good business. Too much emphasis can not be placed upon each one of these operations.

Mrs. Jones: "How long was your last cook with you?"

Mrs. Jones: "She was never with us. She was against us from the start."

Giving Yourself

Lesson for October 8, 1950

"WHEN a girl throws herself away on a man, she generally takes pretty careful aim."

That may be so; but more than a few persons throw themselves clean away without taking aim at all. They amble through life, they do not march. They have no personal five-year plans, not even five-week plans. They stumble from one day to the next, they live from hand to mouth. They care for nobody and few care for them. They may be found on Skid Row, living from one handout to another, or they may be found in the Silver Spoon Club, with plenty of money but no idea how to spend it and hardly enough energy to waste it.

Dr. Foreman

A Man Gives Himself

MOST people, however, do give themselves to something. Every man who amounts to something, gives himself in one way or another. There was a college student once who practiced nineteen hours a day on the piccolo, it was said. Naturally he couldn't stay in college at that rate, so they got rid of him. But he landed, as you might expect, in one of America's finest orchestras.

If you want to succeed in music, give yourself to music. If you want to succeed in a law course, give yourself to your books. Men usually give themselves to what they think is of greatest value. Some give themselves; that is to say, they devote themselves to their own comfort and happiness.

That is cheap and selfish, of course, but there is a kind of transferred selfishness which is almost as common: giving oneself to one's family to the exclusion of everything and every one else. A good man will love his family, a good mother her children; but there is a kind of ingrown family affection and mother-love which is blind to community needs.

• • •

Down the River

THERE are bad ways of giving oneself. A prophet once said of King Ahab, he sold himself to do evil. That is still done. Some give themselves up to liquor and gambling.

There have been quite selfless and tireless advocates of atheism, and communism, and fascism, and bad religions of all varieties. Men have worn themselves thin in the service of Hitler and of other tyrants.

If the energy and persistence, for example, which is spent in trying to prevent the humane use of unwanted animals in medical research, were spent in intelligent support of preventive medicine, how much better the world would be!

• • •

Say Yes to Christ

SO the question is not so much, Shall I give my life? The question is, To what? To whom? For three months these Bible studies consider "Growth in Christian Living." All growth starts at some point; and Christian growth starts at the point where the Christian gives himself to Christ and his cause.

Consider what "commitment to Christ" means. It is not sentimental devotion to his memory, it is not singing songs about him or to him. (Not that such songs are wrong!) It is not following a historical character, though Jesus was and is a real person. It is saying "Yes" to Jesus Christ. It is giving one's highest devotion, one's first loyalty to the Son of God.

It is devotion to the living Christ, ever-present; to the One whose reign is destined to be over all. It is devotion to Christ's cause; to his Kingdom, his control, his way of life. It means growing into his mind; it means becoming more and more like him, wanting to be like him, till at last Paul's words come true again: "For me, to live is Christ."

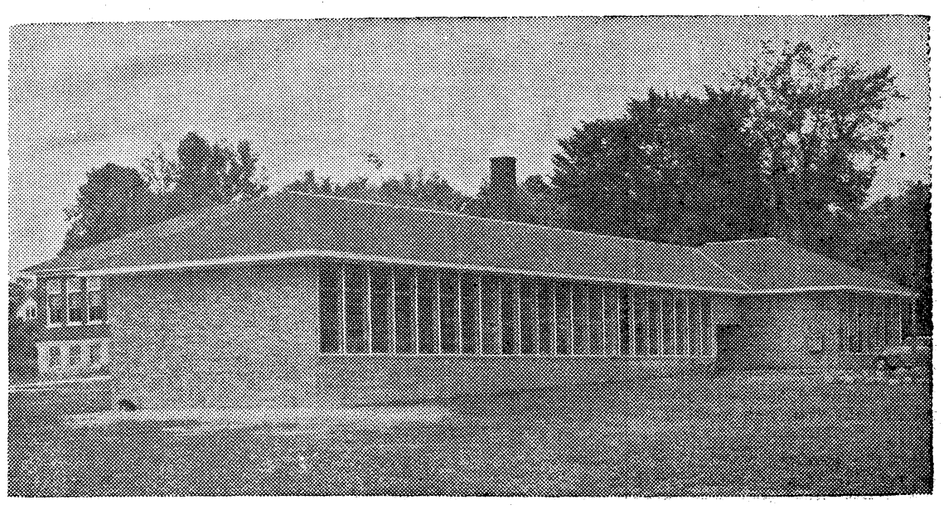

• • •

You Get More than You Give

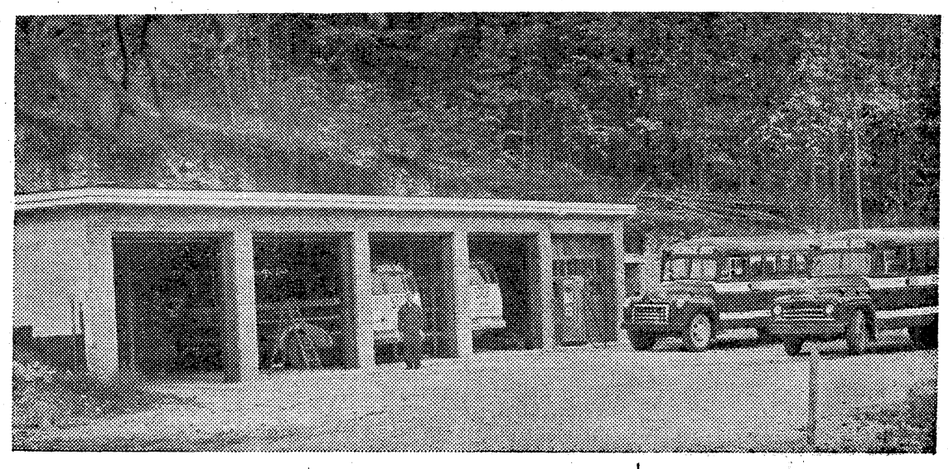

IT IS a mistake to think that if one gives his life to Christ, then he cannot give his life to anything else. The astonishing truth is, when a person first gives himself to Christ, he finds that Christ gives back far more. Christians can be, and are, devoted scholars and business men and mothers and doctors and farmers. The more truly one is committed to Christ, the better he is likely to be at his job, whatever it is.

NEW FOUR ROOM ADDITION TO BANKS TOWNSHIP UNIT SCHOOLS

NEW SCHOOL BUS GARAGE

The new four room addition to the Banks township unit school was completed early in September and will house the kindergarten, first, second, third and fourth grades and shop classes. It is constructed of brick and provides 5,200 feet of additional space and was built at a cost of $45,000. Modern fixtures and materials in the structure include indirect lighting, asphalt tile floors, ample windows facing north, new sanitary facilities and green chalk boards. Furniture is of movable chairs and desks. The building was approved by voters in a special election last March and is financed by an assessment of and additional one per cent of the valuation of property in the district, which includes residents of Banks and Central Lake townships, Antrim County and Marion and South Arm townships, Charlevoix County. Purchase of equipment at a cost of $7,000 was financed by assessment of seven mills on the tax roll for one year. A five stall bus garage was also completed during the summer. This is built of rein forced concrete with brick front and pillars and is located opposite the school site. The building is 40x72 feet and was built into the side of a hill to secure natural insulation for three sides. It was financed by donated labor and free will donations of Ellsworth merchants and members of the district. The cost was $7,000.

These improvements were the first major expenditures since the original building was constructed in 1917. (Part of the old building can be seen at the rear left in the picture.) Two new school buses at a cost of $11,000 were also purchased during the summer, and with two old buses, transport 195 pupils.

The total enrollment of the school is 268, which is six more pupils than the previous year, according to Henry Smith, superintendent.

New courses in the curriculum include an advanced class in both shop and agriculture, a course in journalism and public speaking.

Smith says the school is the only one of its size in northern Michigan with full time instructors in shop, agriculture and commercial classes. There are 11 members on the faculty.

Total cost of the new addition, garage, equipment and two buses is $70,000.

Humane Act

A farmer, on his way to town in his wagon, overtook a peddler with a heavy pack on his back. The kind-hearted farmer pulled up his horse and offered the wayfarer a ride, which was gratefully accepted.

After a while the farmer noticed that the peddler kept his pack on his back. "Why don't you relieve yourself of that load, and put it in the back of the wagon?" he asked.

"Well," said the peddler, "you have been so kind to me, and I noticed that your horse did not seem particularly strong, so I thought I would take some of the load myself."

KNEW HER GUESTS

Two travelers arrived at the hotel and were shown a rather dingy room.

"What," said one, "does this pigsty cost?"

Promptly the proprietor replied: "For one pig, two dollars; for two pigs, three dollars."

No Overtime

The boss came in early and found his bookkeeper kissing the stenographer.

"Is this what I pay for?" he asked.

"No, I do this free of charge," replied the bookkeeper.

The Hard Way

"Hard work never killed anybody," said the father.

"That's just the trouble, Dad," returned the son, just out of college. "I want to engage in something that has the spice of danger in it."

Mean Man

"Is this the Humane Society?" inquired the feminine voice over the telephone.

"That's right, lady; what's your problem?"

"Well, you must do something! There's a book agent sitting in the tree in front of our house teasing my dog!"

What Else?

"What is cowhide chiefly used for?" a teacher asked his class one day.

A boy raised his hand.

"I know, sir. To keep the cow together, sir," was the reply.

Mud in Your Eye

"My father always proposed a toast before he disciplined me."

"That's funny. What was it?"

"Bottoms up."

DOING HIS BIT

When he told his parents he had secured a job at the blacksmith shop, they laughed, and said:

"You surely don't mean to tell us that a little fellow like you can shoe horses."

"No," said the boy, "but I can shoo flies."

'Taint So Easy

An angler who had been trying to hook something for the last six hours was sitting gloomily at his task when a mother and her small son came along.

"Oh," cried out the youngster, "do let me see you catch a fish."

Addressing the angler, the mother said severely: "Now don't you catch a fish for him until he says 'Please.'"

JUST TO BE SURE

"Does she have her own way?"

"Does she? Why she writes her diary a week ahead of time."

COLLEGE MUSEUM WANTS OLD FARM ARTICLES

Farm articles of considerable age are desired by the Michigan State College Museum. An effort is being made to establish an agricultural museum second to none. Every article ever used on the farm or in the farm home will be collected for the establishment of such a museum on the farm.

Recently the Museum was given a dog treadmill that was used as late as 1881, for the making of butter. This came from Shiawasee County. The mill has been repaired and is now on display.

On many farms and in many homes are items that were of great importance to our forefathers but are now gathering dust and in danger of being destroyed. Would it not be better to contribute such items to an institutition where they will be kept permanently and help to perpetuate the history of the agriculture of our forefathers?

If you have such articles that you would like to contribute write direct to J. W. Stack, Director, Michigan State College Mueseum, 36 Auditorium Bldg. East Lansing, Michigan, or notify your County Agricultural Agent, Walter . Kirkpatrick, who will be glad to assist in this.

You always have to remember that your backyard might be someone else's front yard.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. N. Forces Surprise Communists With Amphibious Attack at Inchon; Ministers Plan European Defenses

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Robert Schuman of France, Dean Acheson of the U. S., and Ernest Bevin, of Great Britain (left to right), open the Big Three foreign ministers conference at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York. Main topic of conversation was the defense of Europe against Communist aggression.

KOREA:
Now the Offensive

With unexpected and dramatic suddenness the war in Korea turned from the defensive to the offensive.

It was sudden in that the American people were surprised that United Nations forces could be mustered to launch an offensive. And it was dramatic in its conception and execution by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

From June 25, when the Communist struck with surprising force and generalship, the people of America watched one continual withdrawal. They heard of one Communist advance after another and the fall of such cities as Seoul, Suwan, Kumsan and Taejon. Further and further the Communists advanced until U.N. forces held a beachhead in the southeast corner of Korea that offered little or no room for further retreat and little possibilities for an offensive.

And then in one stroke General MacArthur launched an invasion of Korea over 100 miles behind the Communist lines at Inchon. Other forces landed at Yongdok and at points on the east coast.

The main invading force on the west coast at Inchon had one objective: the capture of Seoul, former capital of South Korea, and cutting the supply routes of the Communists from North Korea. At the same time a general offensive was launched in the south from the U. N. beachhead.

General MacArthur did not try to hide his eventual hopes for the operation. He wanted to cut Korea just below the 38th parallel and thus have the Communists armies between two hammers that would slowly but surely beat them to pieces and destroy them.

The initial invasion was successful. U. S. marine and army divisions captured Wolmi islands in less than an hour, overran Inchon and advanced on Seoul. Kimpo airfield, the best in Korea, was captured, and American troops stood at the outskirts of Seoul.

The southern offensive progressed slowly against stubborn Communist rear guard action. There were indications, however, that Communist defenses were crumbling.

SPYING:
Slack Admits Guilt

Alfred Dean Slack, a former chemist at a Syracuse, N.Y., plant, admitted in federal court at Greenville, Tenn., he was guilty of wartime spying for Soviet Russia.

Slack said he supplied Russian agents with a sample of RDX, a high explosive, and the formula for its manufacture.

U. S. attorney James M. Meek told the court there were "extenuating circumstances" in Slack's favor and recommended a 10-year prison sentence.

Meek told the court how Harry Gold, a Philadelphia biochemist now awaiting trial on espionage charges, made contact with Slack and asked him to obtain details of the manufacture of RDX.

Slack reportedly refused three times to give Gold the information, but when threatened with exposure as a "Soviet spy" obtained a sample of the explosive and the formula, and turned them over to Gold.

JAPAN:
Ready for Treaty

Since the end of the shooting war progress toward a Japanese peace treaty has been blocked because the big powers were divided over what the treaty should be and the procedure for drafting it.

Now, however, the United States has announced it is ready for a treaty and the state department representative John Foster Dulles instructed to begin "informal discussions."

Headliners

"That's a good sight for my old eyes," Gen. Douglas MacArthur said as he inspected six Red tanks, still smoking, where they had been knocked out near Seoul.

"If we lose, we lose forever," Bernard Baruch warned in his latest statement to the American people that all-out war must be waged by the U.S. to win in Korea.

"You see, kids, I happened to be caught in two wars inside 10 years, and the reason I am where I am today is because I am fighting for what I think is right," Pfc. John J. McCormick, 28, wrote in a letter to his two daughters. The letter was received three days after a telegram that informed Mrs. McCormick that her husband had been killed in Korea.

"If American warmongers force a war on humanity it will be their last war. The hate of honest and patient people will explode with a strength greater than any hydrogen bomb," shouted Soviet Marshal Semyon Bagdanow in a speech to bolster Russian morale.

BIG THREE:
Not in Accord

Diplomatic sources noted with concern a break, although not considered too serious, in the relations of the Big Three foreign ministers in their first series of New York meetings.

Dean Acheson, representing the United States, Robert Schuman of France, and Ernest Bevin of Great Britain were not in accord on the U. S. proposal to rearm western Germany. That was the major source of disagreement.

The United States, through Acheson, had urged the 12-nation North Atlantic council to reach agreement in principle that western German forces should become part of the projected western European army.

The U. S. idea was that German troop units would be included in the western European army. France, however, indicated that she wanted to go slow and easy on the question.

The gist of the French attitude seemed to be that it was premature to agree immediately on the principle of eventual German rearmament. That attitude was understandable in that France had not forgotten, or is likely to forget, World War I or World War II, sparked by German aggression.

Observers said that there was a possibility that the foreign ministers might come to some sort of agreement in principle among themselves, though it might not be announced publicly.

The ministers discussed a broad range of urgent problems. A communique issued by the three said they were fully agreed that the most urgent problem was that of strengthening the defenses of the free world both in Europe and in Asia and were equally agreed that immediate effective steps must be taken to that end.

That, perhaps, was a true indication of the atmosphere in which the ministers worked. It was not a question of what had to be done, but the best way to accomplish it.

Follow Through

A second offensive against communism began shortly after the invasion of North Korea with the Voice of America beaming broadcasts to the far east describing the exploit.

Factual reports of the daring maneuvers topped all broadcasts to the far east and near east and shared first attention with the foreign ministers meeting in broadcasts to Europe.

MARSHALL:
Anger Close to Tears

In an atmosphere of bitterness that at times brought senators to their feet in anger that bordered on tears, congress cleared the way for General of the Army George C. Marshall, a soldier for 40 years, to serve as secretary of defense.

The waiver to the unification act which forbids the office of secretary of defense to a commissioned officer within 10 years of the end of his active service was approved by the house 220 to 105 and by the senate by 47 to 21.

But before the vote in the senate. William E. Jenner of Indiana took the floor and for an hour, while the senators sat in silence and shame, launched into an attack on Marshall's honor that astounded foes and friends alike.

It was the reapparance of the bitter core of isolationism and Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska immediately made it plain that they were not going along with Jenner's denunciation of General Marshall as a soldier and a man.

Taft opposed the waiver on the grounds that it would put a military man in the cabinet as head of the military establishment and would strike at the old American tradition of civilian control of military affairs. Taft also contended it would strengthen the position of the secretary of state "in relation to the Chinese Communists." That was as far as he would go.

Jenner, however, attacked Marshall as "either an unsuspecting stooge or an actual co-conspirator with the most treasonable array of political cutthroats ever turned loose in the executive branch of the government."

Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois called Jenner's speech "reprehensible, irresponsible, the most diabolical speech in the halls of congress that I have ever heard in 16 years here." The Republicans in the senate were inclined to agree.

Most observers said that Jenner's attack on a man who has served his country for 40 years and is greatly respected by the American people in every walk of life, will have further and deeper repercussions. The Indiana senator is known as one of the most consistent isolationists in congress. His attack, although denied by such men as Taft and Wherry, still carries the label of the Republican party and may be reflected in the coming elections.

CONTROLS:
Curbs on Credit

With the restoration of government curbs on consumers' easy-payment credits affecting car, furniture and household equipment, 32 war materials—including steel, lumber, industrial alcohol, and nylon yarn—were placed under federal non-hoarding orders.

Although no consumer items were named, the "inventory control" was broader than had been expected. No shortages are expected to develop, but the move was made to prevent overbuying by businessmen.

N.P.A. administrator William H. Harrison said: "The purpose of the order is to make clear that national interest demands there be no accumulation of materials beyond what is needed for immediate production."

The new defense production law provides a $10,000 fine and one year in prison as maximum penalty for violations. Harrison ordered industry to "cancel, reduce, or defer" promptly any orders which already may have been placed, if they would bring stocks to an illegal size.

CIVIL-DEFENSE
Plan Handed Congress

A blueprint for a vast civil defense program, greater than that of World War II, was placed before congress. It was designed to rally the nation from an atomic attack and enable it to strike back swiftly and destroy the aggressor.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the national security resources board which drafted the plan, said the program was needed because for the first time since the war of 1812 "an enemy has the power to attack our cities, and for the first time in our history that attack may come suddenly, with little or no warning."

The board's report said, "Granted a few minutes' warning, casualties could be reduced by over 50 per cent through proper organization and training in civil defense."

The program outlined a mutual-aid system reaching into every American home and calling for the services of hundreds of thousands of paid and unpaid workers at the federal, state, and local levels.

CONTRACTOR:
Tape Was Too Long

On the lighter side of the news, Michael O'Malley, a Chicago masonry contractor, sued F. W. Woolworth company and the Waterbury Lock & Specialty company for $20,000 for selling him a rule that was one foot too long.

O'Malley claimed the extra foot caused him to build several garages and a house a foot too big and he is being sued for not filling his contract.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Baseball, war and politics crammed frount pages in Michigan this week. There'll be another world series next year, but no second chance in Korea.

Now it can be told. This year saw the biggest primary turnout (900,000 voters) since 1940. What would happen if spectator participation reflected such apathy.

But the coming election will get its share of news space in the next month. Both sides are lining up for a slugfest, with the G. O. P. recognizing the heavy Democratic turnout as a call to arms. Both major parties are treading lightly. An error now might reveal a chink in political armor for the opposition to hammer.

When the new state legislature convenes Jan. 1, it will again take time for them to get acquainted. There will be 42 changes.

Sure sign that fall has arrived is the return of children to school —and a lessening of the now annual polio epidemic. Experts report a "better year" in combatting the crippling disease.

Housewives are getting a surprise now that chilly, meat-eating weather is back. While they served cold cuts and potato salad this summer roasts, chops and even poultry jumped a few cents in price. And eggs are going up even faster despite the fact that the U. S. Grade A egg production in August was the highest on record for the month.

But sugar may go down, officials in the industry state. U. S., European and Cuban crops were highest on record this year. Many a housewife may find herself sweeping around that 50-pound sack in the basement.

Farmers alsa are coming into the state spotlight over the oleo referendum this fall. The fight for ready-colored oleomargarine has raged for a year now. Both dairy and margarine interests are confident of victory—both are beating the bushes in these last weeks before the people decide the issue for them.

Since the Korean war has taken a turn for the better, the news that half of the Michigan men called for pre-induction examinations have been rejected is not so disheartening. Of 18,384 examined, 9,502 were rejected.

Relief for those inducted — draftees and recruits can forget their bills. While in the service not even income tax evasion can be prosecuted and the serviceman's family cannot be evicted for nonpayment of rent without a special court order.

But if the serviceman gets to Korea he may miss out on his beer ration—at least if the Temperance league of America has its way. This group recommends giving the combat boys fruit juice and soft drinks instead.

While more profit taxes are boomed in Washington, the echo can be heard in Michigan. State Controller Robert F. Steadman says the state had a $45,673,724 operating deficit during the fiscal year ending June 30. He says that only by new taxes can the state overcome this decicit position.

But Michiganders are saving their money. At least bank deposits in the state went up five percent last year making a total of more than five billion dollars as of last December.

War officially has come to Michigan's industry now. Ford and Cadillac have announced they now have war contracts—first large contracts to be let in the state.

Hand in glove with war contracts goes the labor problem. The U. S. Labor department is urging employers to consider physically handicapped workers. Perhaps now handicapped World War 11 veterans will find a place in this new crisis.

A committee has ben formed in the state to push the $65,000,000 bond issue (to be on the November ballot) which would authorize the state to borrow money for the construction of mental and TB beds. Name? Michigan Citizens Education Committee on Bond Issue for Mental andTuberculosis Patients.

A four color map of "Historic Michigan" will be ready for distribution early in 1951, according to the state historical commission. The map has been three years in the making and goes to the printers soon.

Regular applications of wax are the most practical protections for printed linoleums or felt base floor coverings advise Michigan State College home economists.

Manufacturers say that more linoleum floors are scrubbed away than are worn away by foot traffic. Use floor seals on inlaid linoleum as you would on a wood floor to protect the surface from wearing or scrubbing.

Clothing specialists at Michigan State College believe that the habit of showing individuality and taking a little time with personal appearance is one that a woman should hold fast to even if she does have a family and home to occupy nearly all her time.

Served Him Right

A party of visitors were being shown over a large lunatic asylum. The doctor who acted as guide paused before a cell in which a man sat nursing a large doll which was dressed in the gay and gaudy costume of an up-to-date young lady.

"This poor fellow," explained the doctor, "has a very sad history. See how he is bending over that doll and fondling it so tenderly. He spends most of his time like that. He was engaged to a girl, of whom he was very fond. She jilted him, however, and married another man, while this one lost his reason over the affair."

The visitors were much touched, and uttered various expressions of sympathy.

They passed to the next cell, which was barred and thickly padded.

"And this," resumed the doctor, "is the other man."

DEVOTED ACT

"Did you give the penny to the monkey, dear?"

"Yes, mama."

"And what did the monkey do with it?"

"He gave it to his father, who played the organ."

Cause for Alarm

A woman went into a butcher shop one evening to buy some meat. A strange man followed her into the store and stood about while she was at the counter. Suddenly she screamed, and the man turned and ran out of the store, and right into the arms of a passing patrolman. On searching him he was found to be armed. Later he was identified as a notorious hold-up man.

"Mrs. Jones, if you hadn't screamed I would certainly have been robbed," declared the butcher gratefully. "But how did you know he was a bandit?"

"I didn't know," protested Mrs. Jones. "I screamed when you told me what the roast was going to cost me."

Just in Case

In a certain store they have a book in which a record is kept of the exact reason why any customer leaves without making a purchase.

The other day a woman customer took up a good deal of time looking at black dresses, finally leaving without buying.

The clerk—a temporary hand—solemnly approached the book and entered up: "Customer only looking at black dresses—not buying. Husband not dead yet."

Some Hunter!

The hunter came panting up to one of the party.

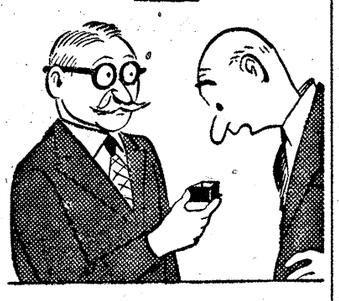

"Just met a great big bear in the woods," he said breathlessly.

"Good!" said the other. "Did you give him both barrels?"

The hunter wiped his perspiring brow.

"Both barrels!" he returned, "I gave him the whole gun!"

ONE WAY TO DO IT

A patient complained to the doctor that his hair was coming out.

"Won't you give me something to keep it in?" he begged.

"Take this," the doctor said kindly, and handed the patient a pill box.

OF COURSE!

A "Big Indian" strayed away from his camp and got lost. Inquiring the way back, he was asked: "Indian lost?"

"No," said he, disdainfully, "Indian no lost—wigwam lost." Striking his breast, he exclaimed, "Indian here!"

None in His Craw

They sat on the beach. Her hair caressed his face. Her head rested on his shoulders. Her lips looked down on his. Finally she murmured, "Why don't you kiss me?"

"I can't," he said, "some sand got in my mouth."

"Swallow it, boy, swallow it," she said, "If any one ever had need of sand, you certainly are the guy."

NEW MATERIALS GAIN WIDE USE FOR RUGS

Because of their inexpensiveness, other types of floor coverings are being purchased instead of wool rugs, reports Mrs. Margaret Foster, home furnishings extension specialist at Michigan State College.

Soaring costs of carpet wool are given as the reason for the higher prices of wool carpeting. If this upward spiral in raw material continues, and the demand for wool floor coverings remains high, there appears to be little chance that retail prices will drop, Mrs. Foster believes.

Serviceability, beauty and the warmth of wool rugs have kept them on the preferrable list but now cotton, linen, rayon and hard surface coverings are becoming popular with many homemakers. Linoleum is being designed with a textured look to look less "kitcheny" than in the past.

Cotton rugs did not disappear with the war but have gained popularity because their lovely colors and textures harmonize with today's casual rooms. Linen rugs in excellent colors are also available in room sizes. These rugs have a flat weave and present a simpler cleaning problem than the shaggy pile of the cottons. Firmly constructed flax rugs are serviceable, too, and the plain or slightly flecked appearance makes them tasteful backgrounds for informal furniture and draperies.

Rayons are being used with other fibers to produce unusual color effects in rug yarns. Nylon carpets are very high at present but are luxurious as the finest wool and very elegant. Nylon has the advantage of not attracting moths.

What the wearing qualities of the new carpets will be in actual use, it s too soon to say. They will have to be tested under ordinary living conditions before the final answer will be known.

The Modern Touch

The farmer's rosy-cheeked, bobbed-haired daughter came striding along the lane from the farmhouse. She was clad in grimy overalls; from the pockets bulged bunches of cottonwaste and sundry tools. One hand carried a bag of tools, the other a wrench.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?" jokingly asked the squire's son, who met her.

"I'm going a-milking, sir," she said.

The squire's son looked surprised.

"But the tools—what are they for?" he asked.

"Trouble," sighed the girl, "with that new milking machine that father has just installed in the cowshed."

NEVER FAILS

"I never take my trouble home with me from the office."

"I don't have to either; mine's also usually there at home waiting for me."

That Settled It

The question of the correct plural of the word "mongoose" was solved by a gentleman who wanted a pair of these interesting and affectionate creatures.

He wrote to a dealer: "Sir, please send me two mongeese."

He did not like the look of this, tore up the paper, and began again: "Sir, please send me two mongooses."

This version did not satisfy him any better than the first, so he wrote: "Sir, please send me a mongoose, and, by the way, send me another."

Logical

The teacher was telling the class about the discovery of the law of gravity. She said:

"Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground looking at a tree. An apple fell on his head and from that he discovered gravitation. Just think, wasn't that wonderful?"

"Yes'm, an' if he had been settin' in school lookin' at his books, he wouldn't have discovered nothin'," piped a small boy in the last row.

A Hot Chair

"I've got a pretty distasteful job before me," remarked the genealogist.

"Mrs. Newrich employed me to look up her family tree, and I've got to inform her that one of her relatives was electrocuted."

"Why worry about that," said his friend. "Just write that the man in question occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our public institutions."

LITERALLY SPEAKING

"I got a real kick out of kissing Jane, last night."

"Any more than usual?"

"Yea, the old man caught me."

Out of Range

He was so proud of his play as a golfer that he wanted to show off. So he invited his mother-in-law along to watch.

As he started off for the first tee, he said to his opponent:

"I'm particularly anxious to make a terrific drive. That's my wife's mother standing over there."

"Sorry, old man," said the other; "but you can't expect to hit her at 200 yards."

THE OTHER KIND

"Do you love me dear?"

"Dearly, sweetheart."

"Would you die for me?"

"No, my pet. Mine is an undying love."

Careful, Colonel!

To disobey a command of a colonel is to invite disaster, as many a green rookie had learned.

One morning on a tour of inspection a colonel stopped at the kitchen of one of the companies in his command, where he met two K.P's with a large soup kettle.

"Here, you K.P.," he bellowed. "Let me taste that soup." One of the men hurried back after a large spoon, which he handed respectfully to the colonel.

The officer plunged the ladle into the pot, took a mouthful of the steaming liquid, and smacked his lips critically. Then he let out a howl that could be heard at G.H.Q. half a mile away.

"Soup, you blasted fool, do you call that soup?" he roared.

"No, sir, colonel, that's just some dish water we was carrying out."

THE REAL ERROR

The owner of a cheap watch brought it into the jeweler's shop to see what could be done for it. "The mistake I made, of course," he admitted, "was in dropping it."

"Well, I don't suppose you could help that," the jeweler remarked. "The mistake you made was picking it up."

Fair Play

The two beginners were playing golf. The next green was 300 yards away and over numerous hazards.

One shut his eyes and took a lusty swing. By a freak of chance he connected with the ball and sent it sailing for the green. It bounded directly into the cup for a hole in one.

"You've made a hole in one, exclaimed the other in an awed voice.

"I'll wager two to one I could do it again," bragged the first.

"Okay," grunted his friend, "It's a wager—but on one condition."

"Sure," agreed the confident one. "What's the condition?"

"This time," said the other, "You've got to make the shot with your eyes open!"

What, a Whole Set?

The millionaire, whose daughter the young man had just saved, was insistent that he accept a cash reward. Finally, to save an embarrassing situation, our hero said casually:

"Well, if you insist, just give me a golf club."

A week later he received a telegram from the father:

"Have bought for you the Westend Golfer's club, and am now negotiating for the Sunnyside Links."

Nothing Trivial

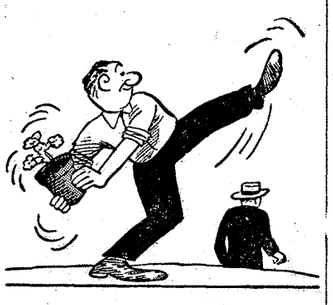

A teacther was making a strenuous effort to get good attendance in her room. Looking over her class one morning, she saw that all except one were in their places.

"This is fine," she exclaimed, "all here except Jimmie Jones; and let us hope that it is something serious which keeps him away."

Only When Necessary

"Dear Teacher," wrote an indignant mother, "You must not whack Tommy. He is a delicate child and isn't used to it. We never hit him at home except in self-defense."

FOLLOWING DIRECTIONS

"Why did you throw the pot of geraniums at the plaintiff?"

"Because of an advertisement, your honor."

"What advertisement?"

"'Say it with flowers'."

NEW VALUATION

"I see she's let her hair go dark again."

"Yes—off the gold standard."

Always Happens

Magistrate: "But why did you break into the dress shop four nights running?"

Defendant: "I got a new dress for my wife and she made me go back and change it three times."

Better Hurry

"Jim, why don't you get married?"

"Well, my trouble is that every day I get more particular and less desirable."

KINDERGARTEN — Isabel Sidebotham

We have 27 boys and girls in our Kindergarten.

We have learned some songs. One we like especially well is "The Apple Tree".

We went for a walk with Mrs. Severance's kindergarten. We saw some pretty maple trees with yellow and red leaves. We reached with our arms to see how tall the tree grew. It looked as if it went almost to the sky.

FIRST GRADE — Adeline Bowerman

We enjoyed having our mothers visit our roof for a "get-acquainted" party on Friday afternoon. Many experiences involving reading, numbers, spelling, writing, art, music and health were brought about by the project. We wrote invitations to our mothers, we made jello in our room, we read the directions, we measured the ingredients, we needed clean hands because we were handling food. We painted cat tails and milkweeds to make a winter bouquet for mother. We sang some songs and recited a poem we had learned. During the recess period a parent-teacher conference was held.

In our discussion period Monday morning Louise Bader told us about her trip to Lansing last week. Suzanne Malpass reported about the fun she had had at the Charlevoix Park and Chris Schroeder gave us such a detailed report on how he waxed leaves to preserve them that we decided it would be fun for all of us to try it. In our activity period on Tuesday each one had a turn to wax two leaves. We think some branches of waxed leaves would be nice to add to mother's winter bouquet.

SECOND Grade—Agnes Johnston

We have a new October calendar in our room. We learned that no one in our room has a birthday in October.

We learned and illustrated the poem "Fall" during our language period. We are going to make a book for all the poems we learn this year.

We have new music books this year. The book is "Our Songs". We liked the song "Geese' that Mrs. Drapeau taught us from the book.

Last Tuesday Donald Skop brought some home-made cookies for us to eat during our milk period.

Jean Kraemer brought the Oct. Jack and Jill magazine to school for us to read. Suzie Stinchcomb brought the "Tiny Golden Library" which we are all enjoying.

Virginia Donaldson, Catherine Kamradt and Mary Porter brought bouquets of lovely flowers for our room.

THIRD Grade — Marie Hughes

We have 38 children in our room now. We had 39 but Mike Herrington moved back to Charlevoix.

Mrs. Clifford Gibbard and Mrs. Kowalske visited our room and spent a couple of hours with us. We were very happy to have them and hope that the other mothers will come.

We decorated our room with autumn leaves and new pictures.

We are studying the West and are grateful to Mrs. Wagner who let us look at two of her tablecloths with pictures of western scenes.

We are studying community helpers. James Gidley made a fine report on the work of the policeman.

We appreciate our new recitation seats. We liked our newly painted desks.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Galmore

The leaves are pretty outside. We are having Indian Summer now. Eula Zitka was out for four days last week.—Wayne Long.

We are making seed people. We are putting them on paper and drawing a scene in the background.—Anita Petrie.

There is a new boy in our room from Kentucky named Wayne Long. He has never seen colored leaves before.—Earl Parks.

Gary Cihak brought a cat to school. It is pretty.—Joseph Welsh.

One of Mrs. Snyder's children brought us a walking stick. It is an insect.—Alice Ann Sumner.

We are studying all the Michigan trees.—Sanford Sweet.

Earl Parks and James Covell have read thirteen books.—Curtis Thompson.

Gary St. Charles had a birthday Oct. 1st.—Billy Dunson.

I read three books this year. One of the books I read was "The Raspberry Patch". I got a football for my birthday, Sept. 28th. —Danny Bennett.

FOURTH Grade—Lois Snyder

We had 42 enrolled in our room the first week of school. Robert Herrington moved back to Charlevoix so now we have 41. There are 20 girls and 21 boys. We had to move some extra desks into our room and we hope to have some new book shelves soon.

Our music periods come on Wednesdays and Thursdays this year. We are going to have some new music books to keep in our room.

We are trying to keep our room attractive and cheerful. Mrs. Seiler sent us a lovely bouquet this morning. We have animal pictures on our bulletin board. In our science we are studying plants and animals.

Our new arithmetic books came and we are very pleased with them. We are glad to have our spelling workbooks too. We are studying about our world and have learned the names of the oceans and continents.

When we read about the Vikings we drew pictures of Viking ships. Now we are learning about explorers and some of us made pictures of the landing of Columbus.

FIFTH Grade — Elizabeth Dhaseleer

The children from our room went for a walk last week. We gathered leaves and some of us drew pictures of the woods. — Mary Ann Detlaff.

Twenty-two of us got 100 in our Friday's spelling test.—Stanley Scott.

We got some new song books Wednesday and are learning songs out of them.—George Kotalik.

We have paper and pencils in our room so when we need them we can bring our money and buy them in the room. That way we won't have to run up and down stairs. Keith Ogden is storekeeper this week.—Gendara Cihak.

We had a subtraction test yesterday and some of us need more study on our combinations.—Jean Kaley.

We pressed the leaves we found on our walk and now we are making pictures out of them. We have some very pretty ones.—Rhea Zitka.

FIFTH Grade — Sadie Liskum

In arithmetic we are reviewing and using facts we learned other years. We have worked with adding and subtracting. Next week we shall work with multiplying.

Mrs. Seiler gave us some unusual flowers and some of us learned their names: nicotiana, sweet sultan, salpaglosis and delphinium.

We have been using autumn leaves in Art Class. Last week we spatter painted around leaves to make covers for notebooks. This week we made color wheels.

In social science we studied the discoveries made by the Spanish and the French. Now we are studying early Virginia and beginning the geography of the southeast section of our country.

Mrs. Liskum has nearly finished reading "The Little House in the Big Woods" by Laura Ingalls Wilder. We are the fifth Fifth Grade to whom Mrs. Liskum has read these books.

SIXTH Grade — Alma Larsen

Last Wednesday I went to Lansing. Wednesday night my cousin and I went roller skating at the Palamar Roller Rink in East Lansing. Thursday I went to Detroit and stayed all night and on Friday I came home. — JoAnn Bader.

We won the football game Friday from Pellston. The score was 14-6. Charlevoix beat Boyne City 31-0. We'll play Charlevoix here on Saturday.—Cal Darbee.

John Gibson visited our room on Monday. John lives in Detroit. He has seen seven Detroit Tiger games.—Dwayne Evans.

Margie Wright brought a doll dressed in strainer pad costume. Our girls are going to make some like it. Sharon Whitmore made one over the week end and brought it to school Monday. We are going to have a display of them.—Patsy VonSoosten.

Mr. Jankoviak made a magazine rack on the back of our book shelf. It is filled already. It makes our room look neater. We wrote a thank-you letter to him today. JoAnn Bader's letter was chosen to send.—Martha Lord.

We are making a Science Scrapbook. In this scrapbook we are having posters of living things, non-living things, mammals, birds, reptiles, fish, insects, amphibians. First we made posters then we put pictures on them. Now we are going to make a scrapbook. —Sandra Boswell.

The children in our room are bringing insects and reptiles for science class. These are the things they brought: Martha Lord, a toad; Lavina Bowen, wasps, grasshopper, cricket and daddylonglegs; Donald Peters, grasshopper and caterpillars. Shelby McClure, a grasshopper, katydid, butterfly and a flying ant; Betty Lou Hawley, a grasshopper, cricket, bee; Deanna Derenzy, grasshopper, cricket, caterpillar and wasp; Leona Fowler, grasshopper. We looked at these creatures through the microscope to see how they breathe.—Sonja Olson.

Deanna Derenzy and Sandra Boswell have an experiment to show which of carrots, beets, turnips, mangles, potatoes or sweet potatoes have the most starch. By dropping a few drops of iodine on each you can tell.—Deanna Derenzy.

Poultry Production Soars in 20 Years

During the last twenty years, poultry farmers have become experts in egg production, says Henry Larzelere, Michigan State College agricultural economist, in citing recent U. S. Department of Agriculture figures.

By adopting better strains of chickens, by keeping more pullets in the laying flock, and by better feeding and sanitation, they now manage to get over a third more eggs per hen than they did twenty years ago. U. S. D. A. economists expect these improvements to continue through the next ten years.

Along with this, the number of chickens and eggs needed will increase as our population grows. But they say that unless production goes down in the next year or two, and then expands at the same rate as population, prices for chickens and eggs will continue low compared with other livestock products.

The economists believe the fewer chickens being raised this year indicates that adjustment is already under way.

A united familyatthebreakfast table means a better breakfast for the nine-to-twelve-year olds. They are also more likely to eat a good breakfast if someone else prepares the meal for them.

Customers' Corner

Packing your order may sound like a little thing, but our trained employees give it a lot of thought.

They know that it isn't right to place five pounds of flour on top of a quarter pound of butter . . . or to place soap next to cheese.

The men and women of A&P will appreciate it if you will let them have any suggestions as to how they can make a handier package for you to take home.
